My Lords, and Gentlemen,

I CANNOT cloſe this Seſſion of Parliament without expreſſing My entire Approbation of the Zeal and Aſſiduity with which you have applied yourſelves to the important Objects which I recommended to your Attention, and at the ſame Time returning you My particular Thanks for the Proofs which you have given of your Affection for Me, and for My Family and Government.

The Aſſurances which I receive from Foreign Powers of their good Diſpoſition to this Country, and the Continuance of the general Tranquillity of Europe, afford me great Satisfaction; but Diſſentions unhappily prevail among the States of the United Provinces, which, as a Friend and Well-wiſher to the Republic, I cannot ſee without the moſt real Concern.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

The Chearfulneſs with which you have granted the neceſſary Supplies, and the ample Manner in which you have provided for the ſeveral Eſtabliſhments, demand My ſincereſt Thanks.

I ſee with particular Satisfaction that you have at the ſame Time been able to furniſh the Sum annually appropriated to the Reduction of the National Debt, without impoſing any new Burdens on My People.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

I reflect with peculiar Pleaſure on the Meaſures which you have taken for enabling Me to carry into Effect the Treaty of Navigation and Commerce with the Moſt Chriſtian King, and for facilitating the Collection and ſimplifying the Accounts of the various Branches of the Revenue, which I truſt will be productive of the moſt beneficial Effects. And I rely upon your uſing your beſt Endeavours in your ſeveral Counties to carry into Effect the Meaſures which have been taken for the Prevention of illicit Trade, and to promote good Order and Induſtry among every Claſs of My Subjects.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by His Majeſty's Command, ſaid:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

IT is His Majeſty's Royal Will and Pleaſure, That this Parliament be prorogued to Tueſday the Thirty-firſt Day of July next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Tueſday the Thirty-firſt Day of July next.

By the KING,

A PROCLAMATION,

For the Encouragement of Piety and Virtue, and for the preventing and puniſhing of Vice, Profaneneſs and Immorality.

GEORGE R.

WHEREAS We cannot but obſerve, with inexpreſſible Concern, the rapid Progreſs of Impiety and Licentiouſneſs, and that Deluge of Profaneneſs, Immorality, and every Kind of Vice, which, to the Scandal of Our Holy Religion, and to the evil Example of Our loving Subjects, hath broken in upon this Nation; We therefore eſteeming it Our indiſpenſible Duty to exert the Authority committed to Us for the Suppreſſion of theſe ſpreading Evils, fearing leſt they ſhould provoke God's Wrath and Indignation againſt Us, and humbly acknowledging that We cannot expect the Bleſſing and Goodneſs of Almighty God, (by whom Kings reign, and on which We entirely rely) to make Our Reign happy and proſperous to Ourſelf and Our People, without a religious Obſervance of God's Holy Laws, to the Intent that Religion, Piety and Good Manners may (according to Our moſt hearty Deſire) flouriſh and increaſe under Our Adminiſtration and Government, have thought fit, by the Advice of Our Privy Council, to iſſue this Our Royal Proclamation, and do hereby declare Our Royal Purpoſe and Reſolution to diſcountenance and puniſh all Manner of Vice, Profaneneſs and Immorality, in all Perſons, of whatſoever Degree or Quality, within this Our Realm, and particularly in ſuch as are employed near Our Royal Perſon; and that, for the Encouragement of Religion and Morality, We will, upon all Occaſions, diſtinguiſh Perſons of Piety and Virtue by Marks of Our Royal Favour. And We do expect and require that all Perſons of Honour, or in Place of Authority, will give good Example by their own Piety and Virtue, and, to their utmoſt, contribute to the diſcountenancing Perſons of diſſolute and debauched Lives, that they being reduced by that Means to Shame and Contempt for their looſe and evil Actions and Behaviour, may be thereby alſo enforced the ſooner to reform their ill Habits and Practices, and that the viſible Diſpleaſure of good Men towards them, may (as far as it is poſſible) ſupply what the Laws (probably) cannot altogether prevent. And We do hereby ſtrictly enjoin and prohibit all Our loving Subjects, of what Degree or Quality ſoever, from playing on the Lord's Day at Dice, Cards, or any other Game whatſoever, either in Publick or Private Houſes, or other Place or Places whatſoever; and We do hereby require and command them, and every of them, decently and reverently to attend the Worſhip of God on the Lord's Day, on Pain of Our higheſt Diſpleaſure, and of being proceeded againſt, with the utmoſt Rigour that may be, by Law. And for the more effectual reforming all ſuch Perſons who, by Reaſon of their diſſolute Lives and Converſation, are a Scandal to Our Kingdom, Our further Pleaſure is, and We do hereby ſtrictly charge and command all Our Judges, Mayors, Sheriffs, Juſtices of the Peace, and all other Our Officers and Miniſters, both Eccleſiaſtical ottical and Civil, and all other Our Subjects, to be very vigilant and ſtrict in the Diſcovery, and the effectual Proſecution and Puniſhment of all Perſons who ſhall be guilty of exceſſive Drinking, Blaſphemy, profane Swearing and Curſing, Lewdneſs, Profanation of the Lord's Day, or other diſſolute, immoral, or diſorderly Practices; and that they take Care alſo effectually to ſuppreſs all publick Gaming Houſes, and other looſe and diſorderly Houſes; and alſo all unlicenſed publick Shews, Interludes, and Places of Entertainment, uſing the utmoſt Caution in licenſing the ſame; alſo to ſuppreſs all looſe and licentious Prints, Books and Publications, diſperſing Poiſon to the Minds of the Young and Unwary, and to puniſh the Publiſhers and Venders thereof; and to put in Execution the Statute made in the Twenty-ninth Year of the Reign of the late King Charles the Second, intitled, "An Act for the better Obſervation of the "Lord's Day, commonly called Sunday;" and alſo an Act of Parliament made in the Ninth Year of the Reign of the late King William the Third, intitled, "An Act for the more effectual ſuppreſſing of Blaſ"phemy and Profaneneſs;" and alſo an Act paſſed in the Twenty-firſt Year of Our Reign, intitled, "An Act for preventing certain Abuſes and Profana"tions on the Lord's Day, called Sunday," and all other Laws now in Force for the puniſhing and ſuppreſſing any of the Vices aforeſaid; and alſo to ſuppreſs and prevent all Gaming whatſoever in Publick or Private Houſes on the Lord's Day; and likewiſe that they take effectual Care to prevent all Perſons keeping Taverns, Chocolate-Houſes, Coffee-Houſes, or other Publick-Houſes whatſoever, from ſelling Wine, Chocolate, Coffee, Ale, Beer, or other Liquors, or receiving or permitting Gueſts to be or remain in ſuch their Houſes, in the Time of Divine Service on the Lord's Day, as they will anſwer it to Almighty God, and upon Pain of Our higheſt Diſpleaſure. And for the more effectual proceeding herein, We do hereby direct and command all Our Judges of Aſſize, and Juſtices of the Peace, to give ſtrict Charge, at their reſpective Aſſizes and Seſſions, for the due Proſecution and Puniſhment of all Perſons that ſhall preſume to offend in any of the Kinds aforeſaid, and alſo of all Perſons that, contrary to their Duty, ſhall be remiſs or negligent in putting the ſaid Laws in Execution; and that they do, at their reſpective Aſſizes and Quarter Seſſions of the Peace, cauſe this Our Royal Proclamation to be publickly read in open Court immediately before the Charge is given. And We do hereby further charge and command every Miniſter, in his reſpective Pariſh Church or Chapel, to read, or cauſe to be read, this Our Proclamation, at leaſt Four Times in every Year, immediately after Divine Service; and to incite and ſtir up their reſpective Auditors to the Practice of Piety and Virtue, and the avoiding of all Immorality and Profaneneſs. And to the End that all Vice and Debauchery may be prevented, and Religion and Virtue practiſed by all Officers, Private Soldiers, Mariners and others, who are employed in Our Service by Sea and Land, We do hereby ſtrictly charge and command all Our Commanders and Officers whatſoever, that they do take Care to avoid all Profaneneſs, Debauchery and other Immoralities, and that, by their own good and virtuous Lives and Converſation, they do ſet good Examples to all ſuch as are under their Care and Authority, and likewiſe take Care of and inſpect the Behaviour of all ſuch as are under them, and puniſh all thoſe who ſhall be guilty of any of the Offences aforeſaid, as they will be anſwerable for the ill Conſequences of their Neglect herein.

His Grace was then pleaſed to make the following Speech:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

IN relieving you from further Attendance in the preſent Seſſion of Parliament, I have the Satisfaction of ſignifying to you His Majeſty's entire Approbation of the wiſe and vigorous Meaſures by which you have diſtinguiſhed your Zeal for the Preſervation of the Public Peace and the Tranquillity of the Country. My ſtrenuous Exertions ſhall not be wanting to carry your ſalutary Proviſions into Execution, to aſſert the juſt Dominion of the Laws, and to eſtabliſh the Security of Property, as well as perſonal Safety, to all Deſcriptions of His Majeſty's Subjects in this Kingdom.

The decided Tenor of your Conduct aſſures me of your continued and cordial Aſſiſtance, and that you will, with your utmoſt Influence, impreſs upon the Minds of the People a full Conviction what dangerous Effects to the general Welfare, and to the growing Proſperity of the Nation, ariſe from the Prevalence of even partial or temporary Diſturbance. Admoniſh them, that the benevolent but watchful Spirit of the Legiſlature, which induces it to encourage Induſtry and Exertion, will, at the ſame Time, be awake to the Correction of thoſe Exceſſes, which are the inſeparable Companions of Idleneſs and licentious Diſorder.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I thank you, in the King's Name, for the Supplies which you have ſo chearfully provided for the Support of His Majeſty's Government. You may depend upon their being faithfully applied to the Purpoſes for which th y are granted.

The Meaſures you have taken for increaſing Public Credit and diminiſhing the National Debt, are conſonant to that Wiſdom and Affection to your Country, which have ever diſtinguiſhed the Parliament of Ireland.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

A new and powerful Incitement to the National Induſtry has been opened by the Treaty of Commerce with France, in which the utmoſt Attention is manifeſted to the Intereſts of Ireland. The Claims of this Kingdom to an equal Participation in Treaties between Great Britain and Portugal, have been acknowledged by the Court of Liſbon. Theſe are decided Teſtimonies of His Majeſty's paternal Regard, and freſh Confirmations of His gracious Reſolution to conſider the Intereſts of Great Britain and Ireland as inſeparable: A Principle which, by uniting the Faculties and Affections of the Empire, gives Strength and Security to every Part of it; a Principle which, with your accuſtomed Wiſdom, you have ſtill further corroborated by the late Arrangement of your Laws of Navigation.

The Loyalty and Attachment of His faithful People of Ireland are highly grateful to the King, and by His Majeſty's expreſs Command I am to aſſure you of His moſt gracious and affectionate Protection.

To fulfil my Sovereign's Pleaſure, which conſtantly directs me to ſtudy the true Happineſs of this Kingdom, is the great and ſettled Object of my Ambition; and upon this Baſis I ſhall hope to have eſtabliſhed a permanent Claim to your good Opinion, and to the Confidence and Regard of the People of Ireland.

After which the Lord Chancellor, by his Grace's Command, ſaid,

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

IT is his Grace the Lord Lieutenant's Pleaſure that this Parliament be prorogued to Tueſday the 24th Day of July next, to be then here holden: And this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Tueſday the 24th Day of July next.
